LEARNING TIP:

FIRST PARTY DATA = POWER DATA

The term “first party data” refers to the highly accurate details and demographic information a company owns and collects directly from its customers, based on real-life interactions with its brands across an array of touchpoints. “Other party data” is received from partners or purchased from outside sources thus diluting the reliability of the information.

Modern Machine Shop is the media brand leader in acquiring and activating its first-party data – the true foundation of our engaged manufacturing professionals.

Interested in learning more about our first-party data and audience behaviors? Ask your MMS sales representative for details.

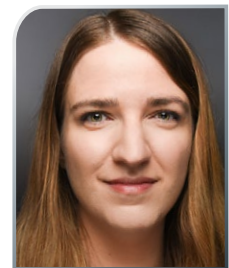

Metalworking expertise your customers trust from the brightest minds in industrial manufacturing.

Our editors may set the industry standard for how reporting on manufacturing should be, but there is nothing standard about what they do. With unprecedented access to job shops, cutting tool manufacturers, machine tool builders, OEMs, service providers and more across the United States and internationally, you'll find our journalists providing unique insight into the ever-changing manufacturing landscape.
